

CUSTOMER CONSENT FORM*

The Scanner is a measuring tool, for use in determining whether to increase a person's intake of certain selected dietary ingredients, specifically carotenoids. The information derived from the measurement obtained from the Scanner is to be considered only as a part of an over-all, well rounded approach to good health practices, including regular monitoring of certain dietary intakes, and is not intended to provide an overall nutritional profile.

By signing this form, you understand and agree that the results of your scan, i.e. your carotenoid level, as well as the additional information submitted by you will be held by Nu Skin at its corporate headquarters in the United States (75 West Center Street, Provo, Utah 84601, USA.), its regional headquarters and/or its local affiliated companies in the country of your residence.

You also expressly consent your information to be used by Nu Skin to process the information outside your home country and in an aggregate database for statistical and research purposes that will not identify you to other viewers.

You have the right to access and correct your personal information held by Nu Skin by contacting the Customer Service of your country of residence (www.nuskin.com). Unless otherwise compulsorily regulated by law, all data will be stored for a necessary time only.

I hereby expressly consent my data to be processed as stated above.
